WHO WE ARE

Since 1996, New England Hockey Journal has delivered the region's most compelling hockey content to one of the world's most knowledgeable, dedicated, passionate audiences of hockey players, parents, coaches, fans and decision-makers at all levels.

New England is one of the largest markets in the world in terms of player participation and consumer spending on hockey-related products and services, and New England Hockey Journal has it covered like no other brand.

With a team of best-in-class writers and photographers, New England Hockey Journal — including our subscription-based website and our glossy print magazine — has become the must-read source for compelling hockey coverage, from preps and prospects (college and pro) to juniors and colleges to our region's pro players and more.

Complementing the magazine, our six-time Emmy Award-nominated NEHJ TV show — now in its eighth season — reaches an even wider audience of highly educated, affluent hockey families with spending power: 3.7 million people in New England and another 4 million on NESN National for a total of 7.7 million homes.

Aimed at hockey players and parents of all ages, NEHJ's The Rink Shrinks podcast features top hockey personalities and exceeded 60,000 downloads in the first three months. It was the No. 2 most popular hockey podcast in the United States (No. 8 in Canada) by late 2020.
